

Dear FCC:

As representatives of the public good, your intentions should be absolutely clear to serve the wishes of the public. In this case, the majority of the public in Wisconsin. I do not want telemarketing calls and am very pleased with our Do Not Call list in our state. Any weakening of these laws to serve the needs of a handful of nationwide businesses is purely wrong and a disservice to our citizens.

If the FCC does allow the banking lobby to override our laws, I will join with others around our state to dismantle the current structure of the FCC with any legal means possible. To succumb to these lobbying efforts would be malfeasance of your supposedly bipartisan office.

Sincerely,

Terry Pease
